NOW WHAT DO YOU SUPPOSE IS WRONG?

That seems to be the question as President Eisenhower kills the engine of his little canopied runabout at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. His wife Mamie, exercising a wife's prerogative, leans forward in the back seat to offer advice. Grandson David looks bewildered and granddaughter Susan appears completely unconcerned. The incident occurred as the President showed off his grandchildren before newsmen. (AP Wirephoto)

Canal Policy Shifts

... Force 'Out'

London (UPI)—A shift in Western policy, ruling out force but remaining adamantly against Egyptian demands for absolute rule over Suez Canal traffic, was evident here Sunday night.

This might lead to a situation that could lead Egypt's President Nasser with a canal but it's not certain.

The new Western policy was emerging up in advance of the Suez user's conference in London called by the United States, Britain and France to begin Wednesday.

It appeared that a formidable gathering of nations, representing 90 to 95 per cent of the ships using the vital 100-mile waterway, would be present. The Big Three invited 17 nations—the ones that supported the original plan by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles for international operation of the canal. President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt rejected that plan.

The United States was seen here as underwriting the new Western policy. There were indications it would emphasize an economic squeeze as the most effective weapon against Egypt.

Dulles, who reportedly feels success lies in playing a waiting game, is believed to have given Britain and France assurances that the United States is prepared to help offset any economic hardships they may suffer from possible loss of the canal use.

Two Factors

Two factors emerged pointing to the shift in policy.

1. Increasing acceptance in Britain and France of the American position that shipping powers cannot shoot their way through the canal.

2. Growing evidence that British shipping and tanker companies, acting under government advice, are prepared to forego use of the canal if Nasser bars the way.

Prime Minister Eden has been under strong pressure from British Laborites and from a minority of his own party to disavow any idea of using force without U. N. sanction.

CAPE PLANS TO OPERATE ROUND-CLOCK

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—Port officials here plan to start work on a round-the-clock basis Monday, to handle a flow of ships they expect as a result of the Suez Canal crisis.

They will have to shift from their days-only working stint to a 24-hour schedule to cope with the rush that will come if ships use the route around South Africa as an alternative to the Suez Canal. There was a hint the South African ports could not take the traffic.

Arrangements are being made to operate through the night and move three transients ships through each berth every 24 hours if necessary, by streamlining port and bunkering facilities.

But Transport Minister B. J. Schoeman hinted Friday, in a speech at Port Alfred, that South Africa could not now cope with the daily total of at least 40 ships that pass through the Suez Canal.

SWEDISH ELECTION DRAWS 80% VOTE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—Swedes voted in a new Parliament Sunday. Despite the quietest campaign in years, the electorate turned out with an 80 per cent vote to choose the 231-man Riksdag which will legislate Sweden's laws for the next four years. Results won't be known until Monday.

Wide Variety Included:

Claims Against State Total Near $100,000

By ROY CAMPBELL

Star Staff Writer

Being a big business organization often has been a headache for the state of Nebraska, and claims against the state often prove the point.

To date, since Jan. 1, 1955, claims against Nebraska as a legal entity amount to close to $100,000.

The individual claims run from $100 to several thousands of dollars.

One filed by a former Reformer, amounts to $7,000 for the loss of all fingers on one of his hands. The minute, now living in California, claimed the state was second to faulty equipment.

He lost the fingers while working on a buzz saw in the old carpentry shop. The saw, the minute said, had several loose screws which resulted in the loss of his hand.

Go To Legislature

All claims, filed with the clerk of the Legislature, Hugo Sro, are considered by a special committee of the Legislature, which has final say on what payments will be made. The claims accrue over the two-year period between legislative sessions.

One of the latest against the state is one for $5,500 by Mario S. C. Cowles and his wife, Charlene, who said in their complaint the state failed to provide a proper conduct on a new highway south of Fremont.

The Cowles, according to their claim, had built a sandpit resort for swimming and boating, but during a heavy rain backed up and "ruined" the area, resulting in the claim.

One of the most unusual claims presented against the state was by a woman. She claimed she witnessed another woman going through an epileptic seizure in the Statehouse, and that as a result suffered a near nervous breakdown.

The fact the seizure took place in the Capitol resulted in the claim, although the state's part in the action wasn't completely explained.

The general run of claims result from any number of incidents. One series of six questions about such claims in the clerk's office comes from a farmer who wants gas tax refunds for gasoline used in farming operations.

The gas tax receipts he said, were blown away in a tornado on June 6 this year. The bill was for $21.50.

Several of the claims are for keeping of prisoners in custody for the state. One such case, for a claim of $1,576, is from Canada, for keeping Michael Negress, who was held for 65 days at Winnipeg, Manitoba. Can, while awaiting extradition by Nebraska.

The use of rotary grass mowers has resulted in three claims against Nebraska. The new mowing machines, the claims said, kicked beer cans and rocks into the path of oncoming cars along state highways resulting in broken windows.

All claims are considered during the meeting of the Legislature starting Jan. 1st.

NU Freshmen Need To Know More Than Rules Of Grammar

Freshmen need to know more than grammar rules to impress English examiners this year at the University of Nebraska.

For the first time, placement tests include a section which tests on what payments will be made. The claims accrue over the two-year period between legislative sessions.

Rescuers Save Five From U.S. Ship Off Norway

LAST SEARCH PLANNED

BODOE, Norway (AP)—A rescue ship picked up five survivors of the sunken American ore ship Pelagia Sunday and a new search was planned for the ship's missing 31 crew members at dawn Monday.

But rescue officials doubt that any of the others will be found alive.

Darkness called a halt to further rescue operations Sunday to break up and the bridge was smashed.

The 7,238-ton Pelagia went down in a raging storm Saturday night north of the Arctic Circle. Nearly all its crew were Americans.

British Rescue

The British trawler Northern Duke picked up five survivors from a drifting lifeboat. A sixth man in the boat was dead. Fishing cutters, speed boats, Norwegian navy craft and other rescue vessels as well as planes combed the area where the ship sank throughout the day but found no other traces of the Pelagia's men.

The trawler captain said the survivors were "in good shape, considering what they've been through."

The rescued men were being taken to the port of Harstad by the trawler.

Capt. Billy Green, the trawler skipper, told reporters after he brought the men into Harstad that Lopez had frozen to death. The five survivors managed to live through the wet cold Arctic night without suffering much damage, Green said.

The heavily loaded liberty ship was broken by the huge seas which did some damage to his own trawler, he said.

From the men he got this story: The hatches went first. The ship developed a list. The deck started to break up and the bridge was smashed.

Three of the four lifeboats were smashed by the roaring ice cold sea. The No. 4 boat was launched but the sea swept it away when no men were aboard. The rest of the crew was left aboard the sinking freighter—with no lifeboats.

Green said 32 men were left aboard although the official crew list said the ship had 37 crewmen.

He did not explain the figures. In New York the company which owns the Pelagia also said the master and 36 crewmen were aboard.

Green said he had gone full speed toward the spot where lifeboats had been observed by low-flying search planes.

"I went to the position given me and found the boat," he said. "That was all. We simply took them aboard."

He said the survivors assured him that there was nothing wrong with the lifeboats. They simply had been smashed by the savage sea before they could be launched.

Later Sunday, the fishing cutter Blaamya reported finding three lifebelts, lifebuoy, an oar, hatch cover and other debris from the Pelagia in the area where the survivors were picked up.

ke Broke Most Promises Since Gen. Grant -- Estes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Estes Kefauver told a party rally here today the Eisenhower administration has broken more promises than any other, with the possible exception of that of Gen. Ulysses Grant.

The Tennessee senator, making one-day campaign stop in Ohio, also accused President Eisenhower of working aggressively against the "little people" of the nation. Kefauver tossed these charges into a speech in which he condemned the administration has failed to take advantage of opportunities to pierce the Iron Curtain and called for breaking down world barriers to "a free flow of peoples and of ideas."

Steer Roast

He spoke to several thousand democrats gathered at Euclid Beach Park for a steer roast, sponsored by the local Democratic organization to raise funds and kick off its campaign for the November election.

In predicting a Democratic victory, Kefauver said "this administration has made more promises than any other administration with the possible exception of Gen. Grant's."

He said it has broken promises to farmers and to labor and, after citing other administration activities he maintained were contrary to the people's interest, he added:

Not Alone

"Gen. Eisenhower is not sitting on a mountain top aloof from all this . . . he has been working just as aggressively for big business and against the little people as any of the rest" of the members of his administration.

Kefauver shared the platform with Michael V. di Salle, the Democratic candidate for governor, and other candidates for state and local offices.

In urging a freer exchange of people and ideas with the Russians and others behind the Iron Curtain, Kefauver said "if they know what we are doing it is going to cause them to demand more freedom."

"We are the losers when we neglect to maintain as full and free relations as we are able with all the other people of the world," the Democratic vice presidential candidate said.

Powerful Medicine

He also said that "the example of our freedom, the fact that it works, is the most powerful medicine that we have."

This was the theme he stressed in an address prepared for a steer roast at Euclid Beach Park, a fund-raising affair sponsored by local Democrats, after his arrival from Florida on a 15-state campaign swing.

On his way into the city from the airport he stopped at the West Park Baptist Church. It was too late for the morning service, but he stood on the steps with the pastor, the Rev. Ernest Dayka, and shook hands with the members as they came out.

Regrets China Ban

In his address at the park, Kefauver said he regretted that the State Department, backed by President Eisenhower, had refused to allow a dozen American newsmen to visit Communist China.

"We have a need to know what goes on there," he said. "It would be helpful if the Chinese who live under Communist rule knew what was going on here."

The State Department denied permission for the newsmen to go to China on the ground that, in the absence of diplomatic relations, this country had no way to assure their protection. It noted some American citizens still are being held prisoner by the Chinese Reds.

Monday morning he leaves for Wisconsin where he has a heavy barnstorming schedule that will keep him on the move almost until midnight.

'Heritage Week' Set

Gov. Victor Anderson proclaimed the week preceding the November general election, Oct. 28 through Nov. 3, as "American Heritage Week." Purposes include that of encouraging every American "to exercise the privilege of the ballot by informing himself of the issues and candidates, and then voting intelligently," the proclamation said.

Turkish Student To Enter NU After Tour Of Saline County

WILBER, Neb. (AP) — Ibrahim Manga has just finished a whirlwind visit to Saline County and is preparing now for a year of study at the University of Nebraska before returning to his native Turkey.

Ibrahim will return to Turkey as a specialist in pasture and forage.

His last two weeks were spent at the Floyd Herman farm north of Wilber, where he learned a lot about three things in particular—amazing farm machinery and a strange language.

In addition to his orientation into Midwestern agriculture at the progressive farm plant of the Herman's, he was treated to a round of Bohemian dances, folk dances, and regular dances, home cooking and English.

Impressed

Ibrahim has already completed farm specialist training in Turkey, but he hadn't studied English until he learned he was coming to America.

He arrived in this country 2½ months ago, spent a week in Washington, a month in Oklahoma, and the last two weeks with the Herman family.

Although he saw Nebraska at the end of an exceedingly dry season, Ibrahim was impressed.

"Your country is green; ours is yellow," he said, remarking that annual rainfall in Turkey is about 12 inches. This year Saline County's is about 20.95 so far.

CUBAN PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER, 15, RUNS AWAY—THEN GETS SCARED

YONKERS, N.Y. (INS) — The 15-year-old daughter of Cuban President Fulgencio Batista ran away Sunday for the second time in four months and wound up stranded on a Yonkers street corner trembling in fear of attack by a pickup acquaintance.

Elisa Batista was found by Yonkers firemen along with a friend, Katherine Lang, 17, after they pulled a fire alarm to summon help.

Elisa's first flight last May was from the Devereux School at Berwyn, Pa., which ended with a phone call to a family friend in Manhattan after hitchhiking to New York. It was different Sunday.

The girls told firemen they accepted a ride from a motorist at Manhattan's George Washington Bridge.

After driving them around, the girls related, the man took them to a railroad station in Yonkers, where he tried to intimidate them. They ran in terror, the girls added, and pulled the fire alarm because they didn't know how else to get assistance.

The girls were turned over to Yonkers police, who called the Institute for Living at Hartford, where both have been staying. Arrangements were made for their transportation back there.

Fremont Man To Head Astronomers

OMAHA (AP) — Dr. Gilbert Luehninghoener, Fremont, Neb., Sunday was elected president of the Great Plains Astronomical Society.

At the group's convention here, Dr. Cruikshank of Des Moines, Ia., was elected treasurer and John German, Clarion, Ia., correspondence secretary.

Members from Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas attended.

A witness at Wilson's trial said that Wilson confessed the murder of Mrs. Lulubel Rossman to him and that Wilson named Ellsworth as the actual murderer.

Mrs. Rossman, 65-year-old widow of a Philadelphia account executive, was found strangled in her Center City Hotel room July 4, 1955. The state maintains that Wilson and Ellsworth killed her the day before, then took $200,000 from the eccentric woman.

The state further alleges that the robbery was conceived by Robert W. Thomas, 46, former deputy sheriff of Dade County (Miami), Fla., and Gus A. De Moss, 49, Tulsa, Okla., who is under suspension as a police radio dispatcher. Ellsworth and Wilson carried out the crime, the state says, then met with De Moss and Thomas in Florida to split the money.

State 'Toke' Land--Granny Gets Even

BLACKSTONE, Mass. (AP) — A great grandmother armed with a rifle and backed by 47 members of her family, blockaded a section of a state highway Sunday night in protest of what she called illegal seizure of her land.

Mrs. Kornelia Zariczny, 72, owner of a farm on Federal St., established the blockade Saturday morning and resisted efforts of Blackstone and Massachusetts state police to remove her from the road.

Mrs. Zariczny threatened to "sit it out if it takes the rest of my life."

Used A Tree

She set up the blockade over a 600-foot section of Federal St. by placing a fallen tree across the road at one end and a sign warning persons to stay away at the other.

She maintained her guard, with other members of her family, despite rainy weather.

Blackstone police threatened to arrest her with the blockade is

ALL OUT-OF-TOWN FRESHMEN AT NWU TO LIVE ON CAMPUS

A $500,000 dormitory for women, Pioneer Hall, completed Sept. 1, makes it possible for Nebraska Wesleyan to house all its out-of-town freshman students on campus for the first time in its 69-year history.

This is the third dormitory built in an eight-year dormitory construction program begun in 1948, which has cost more than $750,000.

This year 284 Wesleyan students will reside on campus. Fraternities, sororities and approved residences close to the campus house others who do not reside at their Lincoln homes.

Chancellor A. Leland Forrest said present facilities should be adequate for the "next five to ten years if we continue the practice of housing most upper level students in fraternities, sororities and private houses."

The chancellor termed properly regulated and supervised dormitory life "one of the most rewarding of all college experiences."

Beatrice Cab Firm Seeks Fare Hike

Lincoln Star Special BEATRICE, Neb.—Three men will represent Beatrice interests Tuesday before the Civil Aeronautics Board hearings on federal airline service in the seven states area.

Charles Harman, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce air transportation committee; Richard McFaul, Chamber manager; and William Sully, also of the Chamber committee, will go to Washington, D. C. for the hearings.

Beatrice is seeking connections with a proposed air route between Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice and Kansas City with intermediate stops at St. Joseph and Topeka.

McFaul returned recently from St. Joseph, Kansas City and Topeka where he had been seeking support for the Beatrice connection.

The hearing will be held in the Gage County Courthouse.

An increase from 30 cents to 35 cents for the first three-fourths of a mile is asked by the cab company.

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — While farm machinery generally sold low at the George L. Wintz farm sale, dairy cows proved to be excellent property.

Wintz's top cow, a Holstein, brought $275. His top four cows brought over $1,000, while his nine best cows averaged $24.

AF PLANE STARTS ON WEIRD TRIP

... Cosmic Zig-Zag

HANSCOM FIELD, Bedford, Mass. (AP) — A huge aircraft roared down the runways Sunday into the murky yonder signalling the start of a strange 90,000-mile, round-the-world flight designed to blaze new trails in space travel.

A driving rain swept the field as the giant four-engine KC97 pointed its nose into the air.

Scientists and a specially selected crew from the Strategic Air Command's 2nd Air Force will be gone for three months as they circle the earth probing the magnetic field which extends thousands of miles beyond the earth's surface.

Satellite Data?

Whether the expedition will incidentally provide data that will help in launching America's planned manmade satellite or if it will yield information valuable for guided missile research, the Air Force scientists do not say.

The craft with 10 men aboard will airlift a 1,500-pound cosmic ray monitor around the world at altitudes of about 18,000 feet. It will fly a zig-zag path criss-crossing the equator, a thousand miles to the north and south.

Leapfrogging ahead of the big plane was a C124 Globemaster with an extra crew, equipment and supplies. First stop on the flight was MacDill Air Force Base at Tampa, Fla.

Then it heads for South America, Africa, Asia and Australia, crosses the Pacific to the United States West Coast and returns to Tampa.

Architecture of the new mansion, a colonial style, pink stucco and brick design, has been the subject of dispute.

The building is due to be completed by next May.

Boy Bruised When Bike Collides With Car

Eight-year-old Junior Hillhouse of 2225 D was treated for head and arm bruises at a local hospital and released after the bicycle he was riding was in collision with a car Sunday afternoon on D between 23rd and 24th, police reported.

Driver of the car was Guy Rutherford, 61, of 714 So. 17th, police said. Both the youngster and Rutherford were traveling west on D when the accident occurred, police added.

The hearing will be held in the Gage County Courthouse.

An increase from 30 cents to 35 cents for the first three-fourths of a mile is asked by the cab company.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

Well, Miss America of 1957 has been chosen from a covey of talented young ladies from all over the nation. And how the judges make up their minds on these things is a matter that stops me.

Now, I think that is a pretty complete picture of Mr. America. No nonsense, just the facts. All bases covered.

You could take those specifications to a contest and give the judges something to work on. With these 33-24-35 Miss Americas, you hardly know anything. These measurements might serve some purpose if you were going to cut her into steaks. Which would be foolish since it would be a waste of talent.

Another thing, these Miss America measurements are not lasting. Give Miss America a pound box of candy and what happens to the 24? Not to mention the lower deck? 33? Gone but not forgotten.

Miss America for the next year travels all over the country. She appears before Rotary. She endorses cake mix. She is wined and dined.

Without any regard to this, the journals go right on printing that she is 35-24-33.

Well, you take a girl with a healthy appetite and put her on the Rotary luncheon circuit for a year and then measure her again. I will bet you that toward the end, Miss America is making her weight with a good deal of help from lastex.

She is no longer the hour glass that paraded at Atlantic City. And Rotary is rising to applaud more than they bargained for. By now she is about an hour-and-a-half glass.

This is where the whole proposition falls apart. You start off with these hard and fast figures and before you know it, French pastry has made a farce of the project.

I have talent. When urged at parties, I will sing "The Night Before They Hung O'Leary."

I weigh 172 pounds. When I buy

Egypt Is The Loser

The New York Times observed the brief pause after the breakdown of discussions in Cairo over the Suez Canal by giving thought to the secondary effects of Col. Nasser's headstrong action. It reflected that when it has all been said and done, whatever may come directly out of the crisis, both Col. Nasser and the Egyptians are destined for the final role of losers.

And that is quite right. Col. Nasser has oversimplified the high-jacking of the canal. Should he in the end retain it, which he probably cannot, he must perceive he is dependent upon the good will and patronage of the nations from whom he snatched it. The canal is only a facility. It is a liability in the hands of a nation not far enough advanced to make use of it. Its value is not so much in the investment that was made in it, but traces more deeply to nations far enough advanced to need it and use it. And that is one thing Nasser can't get by grabbing.

A good parallel can be found in the comparatively recent seizure of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and the great Abadan refinery by Premier Mossadegh. It was one thing to kick out the owners. It was quite another to operate the properties and to maintain markets. After three and a half years the wells were producing but a trickle of oil and the refinery was practically out of business. The economic distress in Iran resulted in a near revolution, brought the rejection of Mossadegh and gained nothing for Iran. It was the old story of grabbing at a symbol and missing the essence.

But perhaps the greatest harm Col. Nasser has brought to himself was an act that shattered world faith in him and his cause.

There is no gainsaying that most of the enlightened world was heartily sick of King Farouk and welcomed the rising first of Naguib and later Nasser. It stood by ready and able to help Egypt help itself. But that went out the window when Nasser breached the faith and demonstrated first that he was not dedicated to his subjects and second that he is not a man to be trusted.

Small Acorns—Big Oaks

For all practical purposes seven weeks remain for the American people to make up their minds what to do about the next 4 years politically. The results in Maine surprised the Democrats, and well they should, granting that Maine's young Governor Edmund Muskie enjoyed an amazing degree of popularity. In polling 179,746 votes, or 59 percent of the total, Governor Muskie rolled up the largest vote ever given a governor in the State of Maine. His Republican opponent polled 123,832 votes.

Muskie was not alone. In the second Maine Congressional district the Democratic candidate held more than a 7,000 vote edge over his Republican rival.

The Maine results inspired the staunchly Republican Los Angeles Times to offer this observation:

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Slightly more than a year ago we returned from the West Coast convinced of one thing. Two basic policies initiated by the Eisenhower administration placed the States and peoples of the Missouri River Basin including Nebraska—possibly other areas of the American Midland—at a terrific economic disadvantage to the two Seaboards, particularly the Pacific. Nothing that we have seen in recent weeks has provided any foundation to revise that conclusion. There has been much to confirm it.

Figures are not always conclusive. Frequently they give a distorted or only a partial picture of the economic conditions confronting a region or a Nation. Late last week the Los Angeles Times did a little bit of gloating over the fact that Californians had increased their personal income more than the national average between 1952 and 1956. The national average increase for that 4-year period was 13 percent. Californians had an average increase in personal income for the same period of 18 percent, or 5 percent above that enjoyed by the peoples of the other 47 states. Not bad, we would say off hand, if you happen to be living in California. But, if you happen to be living in rural Nebraska, offhand you could conclude only that you had been left out in the cold, the sun was under a cloud, or the future far less bright than it had been only a few years previously, when abundant harvests and relatively high prices for farm commodities ushered in a new, impressive era of prosperity for Nebraska. Total personal income for California in 1952 was $25,025,000,000. Four years later it had risen to $29,575,000,000—an increase of more than $4,000,000,000 in four years. Nebraska for a brief period when its agriculture was enjoying its greatest era of prosperity had aggregate farm income of slightly more than a billion dollars. The drop began after the Eisenhower administration came into office, with Secretary Benson initiating his program. The last two years in Nebraska farm income has been well below a billion dollars annually. The Eisenhower administration is not to be blamed for drought and its effects upon the income enjoyed by the people of a State but the effects of drought are intensified by reduced prices and profits for that produced under unfavorable circumstances.

The ten states of the Missouri Basin have their own problems in seeking a place in the sun. In a previous column we pointed out that out of 100 counties enjoying the largest agricultural income in 1952, 24 were in California. There are only 100 counties in California although geographically it is the third largest state in the Union. A fourth of its 100 counties were in the top bracket in farm income and since then if anything that gap has widened. All this can be attributed to irrigation. If California with agriculture, oil, heavy industry, and other wealth, enjoys a high personal income, its people are to be given great credit for an uncanny degree of intelligence in the beneficial use of water.

A week ago today, Monday, temperatures soared to a minimum of 100 to as high as 105 in various sections of metropolitan Los Angeles. The community used a total of 670 million gallons of water for cooling baths, for drinking purposes, and for flowers, lawns and gardens, and industrial plants. That was nearly a million gallons less than the all time record set in

110 degree heat on the opening day of September a year ago

Let this was the water needed for domestic purposes in a region where normal rainfall averages but from 10 to 12 inches a year. And on top of this was the satisfaction of irrigation needs which must have been considerably larger than the requirements for domestic purposes in that 24 hours of heat. The bulk of this water had to be brought from points 100 to 300 miles distant. It does take bold imagination, superb courage and faith and a will to overcome all obstacles. At the same time no region subject to continuing discrimination of the type faced by the farmers of the Mid West, or no region that has seen its reclamation program flame brightly for a number of years only to subside, can hope to maintain the fast pace set by the Pacific seaboard.

We say again that the Missouri Basin States—those west of the Missouri River itself—are facing something more than a battle against drought. They are confronted with conditions which periodically have inspired their peoples to political revolt.

U.S.-Egypt Policy Was Bad Guess

NAHARIA, Galilee — When Gen. George C. Marshall, as U.S. ambassador to China, recommended that Chiang Kai-Shek bring two Communists into the Nationalist cabinet in order to head off China's swing toward Communism, he was later pilloried on the floor of the U.S. Senate by the Senators McCarthy and Jenner as the tool of Communism and a traitor to his country.

When John Carter Vincent, U.S. career diplomat and expert on Far Eastern affairs, concurred with General Marshall that it would be wise to form a coalition Nationalist-Communist cabinet, he had to undergo several years of loyalty board investigation after which John Foster Dulles fired him, not for loyalty, but for bad judgment.

John Davies, also a member of General Marshall's staff in China who concurred in this decision, also was fired by John Foster Dulles not for loyalty, but for bad judgment. Davies since has not even been able to collect the money he paid into the State Department toward a future pension.

This is how harsh John Foster Dulles has been toward career diplomats who guessed wrong—even though such non-career Republicans diplomats as Patrick J. Hurley, also ambassador to China, concurred with them at the time.

RUSSIA IS STOPPED

When President Truman started the world, and especially the American public, with the Truman doctrine for Greece and Turkey, it had one all-important objective—to block Russian influence from reaching down through the Bosphorus into the Mediterranean.

Truman was advised by Winston Churchill and Dean Acheson that Russia's greatest ambition, both under the czars and under the Kremlin, was to penetrate through the Black Sea, through the Dardanelles, through the Aegean to that ancient highway of European commerce, the Mediterranean. From there Communism could fan out toward the restless Arabs of North Africa, the volatile Greeks of the Peloponnesus, and spread up the Adriatic to Italy and Yugoslavia.

The Mediterranean, lifeline of the British Empire, Truman was warned, might eventually become a Communist lake, from Gibraltar to the Suez, unless the Kremlin's penetration of Greece and Turkey was stopped.

Simultaneously the same Nasser was telling Arab leaders: "We are in a position to ruin the West if we act to work."

That was the disastrous error made by the secretary of state for their errors of judgment in regard to China.

More regarding this error, why it was made and its consequences will follow in an early column.

Get The Facts

It was a disquieting charge that was brought by Dr. J. H. Donaldson, Jr., of McCook. He asserted that assistance care is being denied many eligible applicants by the Red Willow County Assistance Office.

While the State Board of Control is reserving specific action pending a more detailed statement of instances and cases, any responsible criticism of the application of Nebraska relief and welfare laws is of major importance. Such a thing touches the intent of Nebraskans in the care and service they mean to grant to their indigent or elderly fellow citizens. Anything less is a reflection against Nebraskans generally. And perhaps more important is the fact that assistance has its end result in the welfare of human beings.

Nebraska desires that every eligible person gets the care and service the law provides. It desires to know also where there are faults in the law or in its administration so that remedies may be prompt and effective.

Dr. Donaldson's charges do not put weight on the Board of Control either to vindicate itself or punish possible error. But they do call for an urgent, dispassionate gathering of facts. And the first concern is the assistance clients.

Not Vociferous

It is no secret that Prime Minister Nehru is not overjoyed with his relationships with the western nations. He does not warm up to the United States.

It was only recently that he publicly acknowledged the good that the United States foreign aid program has done for India.

To keep the record clear, recent commitments have brought U.S. aid to India up to a round billion dollars. Prime Minister Nehru noted that by observing that the achievements of India's first five year plan had been helped by the Indian-American agreement. What he did not say was that Russian aid to India thus far has been in the neighborhood of $200 million, about one fifth of that given by the U.S.

Brides At Double Wedding Ceremony

MRS. JOHN DAHL

At a double wedding which took place on Sunday evening, Sept. 9, Miss Deloris Tietjen became the bride of John Dahl, and Miss Mary Ellen Dahl became the bride of Egbert Tietjen. Parents of the couples are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tietjen of Superior, and Mr. and Mrs. Erling Dahl of Montrose, Ia. Litigated white candles and bouquets of yellow gladioli appointed the chancel of Centennial Church in Superior for the ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. Victor Jordenius, and Miss Mary Ann Bowes, organist. Miss Bowes also accompanied the vocalists, Mrs. Verland Tietjen and were the flower girls, Miss Susan Hill of Superior, and Miss Sarah Tietjen, Byron.

Ellis Dahl of Montrose, Kan., served his brother as best man, and serving Mr. Tietjen as best man was Raymond Tietjen of Concordia. Seating the guests were William Esley, Osborne, Mo., Donald Snyder, Mankato, Kan., and Harold Whitney, Superior.

Miss Tietjen chose for her wedding a gown of white, imported lace and tulle over satin.

Floral appliques of the lace patterned the rounded yoke of illusion, which was accented by a tiny, mandarin collar, and the lace bodice was completed by long, fitted sleeves. The lace was repeated in a deeply-scaled peplum over the full, hoop skirt of tulle, and her illusion veil was held by a shell cap of sequin-trimmed lace. She carried a cascade of red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Dahl's wedding gown also was fashioned of white, imported lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a high, turned-down collar of taffeta embroidered with iridescent sequins, and a flat bow of the taffeta formed the front trim of the slim, Empire waist. Beneath a flaring peplum of lace, and a pillow cap of jeweled lace held her veil of illusion. Her bouquet was fashioned of red roses and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 300 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill in Superior.

SHARING the social spotlight this morning with our usual quota of homecoming vacationers are several interesting houseguests and newcomers to the city.

But first we want to tell you what we discovered while thumbing through this month's Town And Country—an excellent photograph of Miss Lucia Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods of Chicago, Ill., who is pictured modeling a chic tweed suit. Miss Woods, as you no doubt know, is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woods of Lincoln.

AND speaking of the Woods family reminds us that returning home today after spending the summer at their summer home at Star Island, Minn., are Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Woodruff.

WE understand that Mr. and Mrs. James Nicola are spending several days in Denver, Colo., where they are househunting but that they will return to the city on Thursday for a brief stay before packing up their belongings and leaving with their children for the Mile-High City to make their home.

BUT we do want to welcome to Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wright who are settled into their home at 3009 So. 17th. Mrs. Wright, the former Susanne Opitz of Omaha, and a Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of Nebraska, will join the faculty of the Lincoln Public Schools this fall while Mr.

AND houseguests in Lincoln who arrived last Thursday are Mrs. D. L. Schneider and her small daughter, Cecilia Marie, who was born on Thursday, Sept. 6, at the Methodist Hospital in Omaha. Mrs. Schneider, the former Judith Overgaard, and her daughter will be the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Overgaard, for several weeks before joining Mr. Schneider at Bloomington, Ind., where he is an assistant instructor in music and is completing studies for a Masters Degree at the University of Indiana.

Wright continues his studies at the University of Nebraska College of Law.

ALTHOUGH she just arrived late last week for a short visit, Mrs. Grace Farrell of Los Angeles will leave again on Friday when she accompanies her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leadley, and her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bumstead, on a trip to the east coast. Mrs. Farrell and Mr. and Mrs. Leadley will go to New York City where they will visit the Leadley's son, Robert Leadley. After attending the national dental convention at Atlantic City, N. J., Dr. and Mrs. Bumstead will join their family in New York. The travelers will return to Lincoln early in October.

Showdown Likely Today On Integration At Clay

WHITES TALK BOYCOTT

By The Associated Press

All the elements of a dramatic showdown at the front door of the Clay school appeared in the making Monday in that racially-tense western Kentucky town. Residents at nearby Sturgis discussed a possible boycott by white pupils at newly integrated Sturgis high.

Adj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams said Kentucky national guardmen again would escort three Negro children to the combined high and elementary school at Clay Monday morning unless he received orders to the contrary from Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Mrs. Irene Powell, principal of the school, said when the three arrived at the front door she would read to them an order by the Webster County school board that they could no longer attend. The school has been boycotted by 223 white pupils.

No Transfer

The board ruled Friday night that technically the three children had been enrolled in the Negro Rosenwald school at nearby Providence and they would not be permitted to transfer to Clay. The board said the ruling was based on an opinion by State Atty. Gen. Jo M. Ferguson.

At Sturgis, 11 miles north-west of Clay, a group which met Saturday night at Morganfield was trying to get white pupils to stay away from Sturgis high.

W. W. Waller Jr., president of the Union County chapter of the Kentucky Citizens Council, urged the boycott in an address to more than 200 persons at Morganfield.

No Force Can Take Them

"If you keep them at home, there is no force in the land that can take them from you," he said.

Guardians were still on duty at Sturgis, Friday seven Negroes were among the 248 pupils attending the high school. Total enrollment is 275. The Friday attendance was the highest since some white pupils began boycotting the school Sept. 5 after Negroes entered under National Guard protection.

At Birmingham, Ala., Asa E. (Ace) Carter, head of the Alabama White Citizens Council, said "pressure" had been exerted to prevent John Kasper of Washington, D.C., from speaking at a scheduled rally at Montgomery. The rally was canceled.

Carter said he was told in Montgomery it was necessary to get the "blessing" of State Sen. STARVIEW

NEW YORK — The Very Rev. James A. Pike, dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, said in a sermon Southern clergy and lay leadership in the South "have obviously not sufficiently prepared their people" for school integration.

The Episcopal clergyman said while the crisis is more dramatic in the South "the fact is that in the north there is widespread segregation—in housing, in worship, in schools—and again it is clear that the church people by and large have little sense of sin about all."

Golden Gate Leap Fatal To Stanford Prof

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An Englishman who has been a Stanford professor for four years apparently leaped to his death Sunday from Golden Gate Bridge after a gay dinner party.

The Coast Guard recovered body 12 hours after the death of Michael Wyatt, 27, was found on the bridge. On the seat of the car was a note to a Joliet, Ill., woman assuring her of his love.

The letter in the car was addressed to Miss Dorothy Klimek, owner of a dress shop in Joliet. Wyatt and Miss Klimek returned recently from attending the International Geologic Congress in Mexico and were dinner guests Saturday night at the home of Miss Klimek's brother-in-law.

Miss Klimek's brother-in-law, John Harder, said she and Wyatt were not engaged but had been friendly for several years.

Officers said the note in the car related that, while he loved her, they could never be happy.

COPS UNCOVER DOUBLE MURDER IN WRECKAGE

CHERRYVILLE, N. C. (UPI)—The charred skeletons of two men were found in a fire-raked, abandoned farmhouse near here Sunday. Police believe they were the victims of a double murder and arson.

Officers said the men, tentatively identified from scraps of personal belongings found in the ashes, were Paul Brown, 27, a sheet metal worker from Cherryville, and Robert Pearson, 31, a foundry worker from Lincoln.

Brown lived near the scene with his mother. Pearson was married and had four children. Both men had been missing from their homes since Friday night.

Detective Edward Groves of the Gaston County Sheriff's Department, heading the investigation, said he came to the murder-arson conclusion when the skull of one of the men was found several feet from the rest of his skeleton.

The sheriff's department said two men and two women had been taken into custody and were being questioned at Gastonia, 13 miles away. No charges had been preferred.

Mrs. Latham's

Story Is True

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (INS)—Police examined first complete medical reports on the condition of Mrs. Ruth Latham Sunday and discarded any doubts that the wealthy San Diego matron was stripped of her clothing and buried alive in the desert.

The 51-year-old Mrs. Latham had told officers she was abducted by two women last Wednesday and subjected to the ordeal in blazing 14-degree heat.

The first complete report to be issued on her condition said that Mrs. Latham suffered first degree burns over 90 per cent of her body and second degree burns over 10 per cent for instructional purposes only.

Father Reinert said the yearly income from the grant would be about $18,000 to $20,000.

A similar $500,000 grant was authorized for Creighton by the Ford Foundation a year ago. In that case, investment income from the grant was to be used for arts and sciences instruction.

The new Creighton grant is one of 44 going from the Ford Foundation to the nation's privately-supported medical schools for the purpose of strengthening instruction.

Ribs Fractured

The seventh and eighth ribs on the left side of her body were fractured and she has contusions and abrasions on most of her body.

The victim told police that she clawed her way out of the rocky grave after her abductors had left her for dead.

Police said she wandered almost five miles over the burning sands before she was picked up by a passing motorist.

Meeting Set To Discuss Italian Visit

... On Wheat Exports

The coming visit of an Italian wheat export team will be the subject of a meeting to be held in Lincoln Thursday.

Representatives of interested agricultural and allied groups may attend, according to Carson Smith, chairman of the Nebraska Wheat Commission.

The meeting is a result of a decision by the Nebraska Wheat Commission to undertake an Italian-Greek wheat marketing project in co-operation with the Foreign Agricultural Service under the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Smith said.

Federal Funds

Funds are available for market development work in foreign countries. The expense of bringing the foreign trade groups from Italy and Greece to this country would be paid through money available under Title I of Public Law 480.

In addition to representatives from interested groups in Nebraska, delegations from Kansas and Oklahoma have been invited to attend the planning meeting.

The expenses of the group while in the United States will be paid by the Nebraska Wheat Commission and the co-operating groups from Kansas and Oklahoma, Smith said.

The Italian group is scheduled to arrive in Nebraska by mid-October or early November, while the Greek trade group is not expected to arrive until next spring.

Smith said the purpose of the planning committee meeting Thursday is to get "the interest and cooperation of every group or organization in Nebraska which is either directly or indirectly interested in wheat."

Potential

He said the Wheat Commission thinks the project has considerable potential to create a more favorable attitude toward U. S. hard red winter wheat and to lead to greater exports of Nebraska and midwestern wheat to these two countries.

Smith pointed out that Italy, for example, purchased about 29 million bushels of wheat from the U. S. in 1951-52, while in 1954-55 U. S. exports of wheat to Italy totaled less than one million bushels.

YANKEES CINCH PENNANT TIE

Brooklyn Increases Lead, Slips By Cincinnati Reds, 3-2

By JACK HAND

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers pulled out a squeaker Sunday, turning back the Cincinnati Redlegs 3-2, and moving a half-game out front in the torrid National League pennant race. For 2-3 innnings, ancient Sal (The Barber) Maglie set the pock-marked Redlegs on their respective heads. But with two out in the ninth, his wearying arm gave out on him and Smokey Burgess clutched him for a home run with one on.

Then when Ray Jablonski singled, Manager Walt Alston called three singles. But they still couldn't score.

George Crowe singled but was erased by a double play. Then singles by Johnny Klippstein and Johnny Temple went for naught.

Otherwise, he was the complete master of the situation. Gus Bell doubled in the first and the Redlegs argued that the ball had bounced out of the center field stand and it should have been a homer. But they got nowhere.

Burgess singled in the second, but a double play finished him.

The Brooks, meanwhile, were not overpowering against an assortment of five Redlegs flingers.

They got rid of starter Joe Nuxhall, a lefty, in the second when their big guns suddenly boomed.

In stunning succession, Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges and Charlie Suder, drilled doubles to all three fields. That gave them two runs.

In the fifth, Pee Wee Reese singled with one out and stole second while Carl Furillo was striking out. Robinson, Hodges and Charlie Suder all walked forcing in Reese.

Maglie seemed to be getting stronger as the game wore on. The Redlegs didn't get a hit in the sixth, seventh or eighth, and he got two of them in the ninth before he ran into trouble.

Wally Post beat out a dribbler down the third base line and Burgess followed with his 11th homer of the season over the right-field screen.

Jablonski singled and Bessent came in. Jim Bailey promptly singled to right and the Brooks were in trouble. But Pals, batting for Hershell Freeman, grounded to Robinson, and the 20,714 patrons in Ebbets Field breathed easier.

GRAND CAYMAN (AP) — The leading batter over the last two years, has been especially devastating against the Giants, hitting around .400.

Haney nominated righthander Gene Conley (6-9) and southpaw Warren Spain (17-10) to face the Giants Monday. Bill Ripley, the Giants' pivot, has named his southpaw, Johnny Antonelli (16-13), to hurl the first game against Milwaukee. Allan Worthington (5-13) will work the second game.

The teams play a twight doubleheader Monday. It will be the final 18 games of the year between the 18 teams.

"I still believe we're good enough to win," Haney said. "The boys are in good spirits except that they are not hitting. I maintained all along if we hit well we will win and I think we are just about ready to start hitting."

Haney wasn't particularly disturbed over the postponement of today's scheduled game with the New York Giants. An all-morning rain at the Polo Grounds made it impossible to play.

The teams play a twight doubleheader Monday. It will be the final 18 games of the year between the 18 teams.

"The day of rest might be just what the boys needed," said Haney.

"They had two strenuous overtimes in Philadelphia. Thursday night and a day off might be just what the doctor ordered."

The fact that the Braves had dropped into second place, two percentage points behind Brooklyn as a result of their two consecutive losses in Philadelphia Friday and Saturday, did not seem to worry the little skipper much—at least outwardly.

"We were this way before," he responded, "and we came back. We could do it again. Furthermore, the Dodgers have two more games to play than we do and they've got to win both of them to stay on top."

Haney has reason to believe that the sight of the Polo Grounds will prove a tonic to his hitless wonders who, with the exception of Henry Aaron, are presently engulfed in a baffling batting slump.

The Braves have won all nine games played at the Polo Grounds this season.

Joe Adcock, in particular, has been hard pressed at the plate lately. In the recently concluded four-game series with the Phillies, Milwaukee's leading home run and RBI man managed only one single in 18 official times at bat. He hit only four balls out of the infield, lanned four times, left 14 runners on base.

KUENN'S BAT BEATS RED SOX TWICE

DETROIT — Skinny Jim Bunning pitched one-hit relief ball over 4½ innings and scored the winning run Sunday as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Boston Red Sox 8-4 to complete a doubleheader sweep.

Detroit won the opener 5-4, pushing across three runs in the ninth inning.

The hard-throwing Kentuckian doubled and scored the decisive run in the sixth inning on a single by Harvey Kuenn, whose base hit broke up the first contest.

The two clubs banged out nine extra base hits in the twightcap with Bill Klaus and Jackie Jensen hitting home runs for the Red Sox and Ray Boone connecting for the Tigers.

Kuenn's homer was his 21st and came with two mates aboard in the first inning. But southpaw Gene Host, making his first major league start, could not hold the lead. He left in the fifth when Klaus homered on one on and Jensen added a solo blast.

POINT BLANK

Sports Editor, The Star

Those football fans who frequently ask — "How are the Huskers this fall?" — should have a large part of the answer in the next couple of weeks.

Some things will be answered Saturday against South Dakota, the rest week later when the Huskers travel to Ohio State — the toughest test they'll face until Oklahoma.

But the answer is: Great, the best. In a long while.

Football writers generally don't get much kick out of covering a scrimmage. There usually isn't anything particularly exciting.

But Pete Elliott's Huskers changed the script Saturday. By the end of the first quarter, even the most veteran members of the fraternity were trying to recall when they had heard such loud crashes during a pre-season practice.

Spectators, too, were amazed. A former Husker football player of recent vintage viewed the tussle and remarked afterwards:

"Those guys have got tremendous spirit. I've never seen a team hitting and running in practice like they were doing today. And how about that leather-popping. They've got to be hitting hard when a fan high up in the stands hears a noise loud enough to make him remember it."

The 1956 Huskers also made a fine impression on the officials who patrolled the practice.

All remarked about the spirit and hustle shown during the contest and one elaborated:

"Those kids want to play football and they want to play it right and well. Several boys kept inquiring about what they were doing wrong and how to correct it when they were penalized. They want to learn."

Make no mistake. These words aren't scarlet signal flares heralding or suggesting anything like an undefeated season.

The Huskers are too thin in the back field—the line, I think, will be second only to Oklahoma in the Big Seven—to start counting victories before they're won. That goes for South Dakota and the other nine.

But the 1956 club is a fine bunch of kids who are demonstrating a sincere desire to play good football. They've started to generate hard-hitting hustle and spirit.

Spirit isn't enough to guarantee success, but it's a commodity that certainly helps you get over some rough spots.

WASHINGTON (P) — Adlai Stevenson, 62, Democrat, will leave Saturday on phase No. 2 of his presidential campaign — a 6,700-mile airplane tour taking him into 11 states from the Rocky Mountains to Miami Beach.

The daylong tour, starting with a speech in Newton, Iowa, Sunday, "My word!" exclaimed the Rev. Emanuel C. Peters, rector of Emanuel

"I have seen published reports that upwards of two million dollars was spent by Mr. Harriman in his drive," Curtis said in a statement released here by the Republican National Committee.

"If this is true it amounts to a national scandal."

Harriman has called the report "preposterous."

Will Ask Gore

Curtis, a member of the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections, said he expects to make a formal request of Subcommitttee Chairman Gore (D-Tenn.) for a probe of Harriman's spending.

The Gore group is trying to keep on campaign spending this year, and is also studying other election practices.

Curtis said:

"Mr. Harriman is the richest man in American politics today. If an attempt to abuse money in a Presidential nomination has been made, the people of America are entitled to know about it."

Twenty-five (Republican) candidates for the State Senate in New York Friday night adopted a resolution urging an investigation of the Harriman spending "to determine if there was any violation of the corrupt practices act." This must not be ignored.

"Chairman Gore said he wants sworn testimony. I am therefore asking the New York state organization and others to get the necessary evidence."

Don Harrington Sr. is chairman of the group; R. J. Cederholm, chairman of Lincoln campaign; Merle Kornopp, chairman of Lancaster County campaign, and Glen E. Thompson and Robert E. Essman, co-chairmen of the Lincoln "Neighbor to Neighbor" campaign.

Myron Weil is treasurer for the group.

Reports of chairman disclosed that 26 volunteers gave 492 hours in service at the Veterans Hospital this month. The Lincoln unit provided veterans' families with 33 pairs of shoes to 11 families, clothing to four families and milk to two families. Total expenditure was $266.91.

Captain Kennedy of the Salvation Army performed a musical tribute, playing on his concertina selections from Scotland, Ireland, France, England, Finland, Italy and America at the meeting, which was planned by Mrs. Virla Kirtell.

The work consists of furnishing all materials, machinery, equipment and supplies, except as shown in Item 2, Section 2, of the Contract, for the construction of the paving in Paving District No. 1431, being the streets in Paseo Drive, from the west line of Paseo Drive to the west line of Park Manor East, and the north line of Park Manor West, in said City, according to the plans and specifications of the City Engineer on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Plans and specifications may be seen and blank proposals obtained in the office of the City Engineer.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of five (5) percent of the total amount bid, made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, as a guarantee of good faith.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any defect in bids.
